Je's 8/22/73 Nixon San C press conf., tapes.

Confusion deliberate if you read Nixon carefully. This is because, if my recollection is correct, the other tape was one of Dean without Haldeman. The 9/15 one, as I recall, did include periods when Haldeman was not present, despite Nixon's words. What I on looking, listening and then reading regard as the singificant and unintended word in all of this si the "we" in "to be sure that we were absolutely correct in our response." GL seems to have made no response. Context does not suggest he meant "I" by "we" does suggest meaning that he and Haldeman knew what they might have to live with. What he says, if inadvertently, is that he had to be sure Haldeman knw so they could jibe on everything.
